EMERGENCY OFFICIALS FROM MULTIPLE AGENCIES ATTEMPT SATURDAY TO REVIVE A MAN WHO HAD REPORTEDLY JUMPED OFF THE BRIDGE OVER THE BAY OF ST. LOUIS

Man plunges to his death from Bay St. Louis bridge

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

A 68-year-old man apparently plunged to his death from the Bay St. Louis bridge on Saturday morning. Emergency dispatch called multiple agencies to the scene at about 10:30 a.m. Saturday after witnesses reported a man had leaped off the bridge in to the bay. Officials quickly located the man and pulled him into a U.S. Coast Guard boat and began resuscitation as the pilot headed toward the Bay Municipal Harbor to meet an ambulance, but to no avail. Hancock County Coroner Jim Faulk was initially called to the scene, but officials determined the man had actually died on the Harrison County side. Harrison County Coroner Gary Hargrove was then called in to declare time of death. The witnesses who reported the incident had told dispatchers the man jumped from the middle of the bridge, officials said, but his car was found parked on the Harrison County side. Hargrove ruled the death a suicide, so authorities will not release his identity to the public. Among first-responders at the scene were officers of the U.S. Coast Guard, Bay St. Louis Police and Fire departments, Hancock County Sheriff's Office, Harrison County Sheriff's Office, Harrison County Fire Service and American Medical Response (AMR).

STATE REPRESENTATIVE DAVID BARIA, DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR US SENATE, SIGNS VOTER LIST BEFORE CASTING HIS BALLOT IN TODAY'S ELECTION IN HIS HOMETOWN OF BAY ST. LOUIS.

BY GEOFF BELCHER

There was huge voter turn-out in Hancock County on Tuesday, but it didn't work in home-town candidate David Baria's favor. "We had a good turn-out today," Hancock Circuit Clerk Karen Ladner Ruhr said Tuesday after all the ballots had been counted. "The turn-out was compare to our four-year county elections, which is really good for a mid-term vote." Baria, a Democratic state representative who lives in Bay St. Louis, was challenging incumbent U.S. Sen. Roger Wicker, a Republican. Wicker ultimately won more than 59 percent of the votes statewide on Wednesday, ensuring his third term in office. Baria earned about 29 percent of the vote statewide, and about 26.59 percent in his home county. Baria earned 3,683 votes in Hancock County, 251,269 statewide. 158 here; and 6,773 statewide. Shawn O'Hara, Reform, 59 in Hancock and 4,180 statewide. There was also a special senate election on Tuesday's ballot, the non-partisan "jungle" primary to see who would win the right to serve the remainder of Sen. Thad Cochran's term, which expires in January 2021. Gov. Phil Bryant appointed then-Mississippi Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith to

Monday got the ball rolling on a comprehensive watershed-based storm water program they hope will significantly alleviate the county's drainage issues. The board voted 4-0 Monday to approve a proposal for the project and authorize board President Blaine LaFontaine to sign an agreement with Waggoner Engineering for the program. The project will cost an estimated $346,800 and will be paid for from GOMESA (Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act) funds. "What's important about this project," Zoffee Dahmash, a project manager for Jackson-based Waggoner Engineering, told the board Monday, "is that it's a proactive watershed management program that aims to manage storm water on a grand scale." Dahmash said the study would identify the county's watershed issues and help engineer ways to solve them. LaFontaine said the pro-

BATTLE RV FIRE

BY STACEY CATO

Hancock County firefighters battled an RV blaze on Interstate 10 Sunday evening near the LA-MS state line. Emergency officials were dispatched to the area, near mile marker 2, shortly before 10 p.m. after the driver of the recreational vehicle called Central 911 dispatch to report his camper had burst into flames along the eastbound lane of I-10. Officials said the driver reported having just filled up with gas before getting back onto the roadway. He reportedly told officials he noticed the fire starting toward the rear of the RV only a short distance from the gas station. The cause of the fire is unclear at this time. Officials are investigating. It took crews about an hour to completely smother the flames. Bayside Fire Department, West Hancock and Bay St Louis Fire Department assisted in fighting the fire.

2018 BLUES FEMALE ARTIST OF THE YEAR SAMANTHA FISH WILL HEADLINE THE SUGAR MAGNOLIA MUSIC FESTIVAL AT THE HANCOCK COUNTY FAIRGROUNDS IN KILN THIS WEEKEND.

Samantha Fish headlines Sugar Magnolia Festival

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

She has the hands of a guitar god and the voice of a honky-tonk angel, and she's scheduled to perform in the Kiln this weekend. Singer-guitarist-songwriter Samantha Fish -- the 2018 Contemporary Blues Female Artist of the Year -- will headline the Sugar Magnolia Music Festival, which starts this Friday at the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

"It's a real coup that I was able to land her for a show in the Kiln at this point in her career," Sugar Magnolia Fest organizer Mike Rosato said. "We have her for a full two-hour set and it's going to be knock your socks off! She's amazing."

Just last month, Fish headlined the Crescent City Blues Fest in New Orleans, where she moved last May from her native Kansas City, Missouri.

Not yet 30 years old, Fish started her music career at the tender age of 15, first playing drums and later guitar at a blues club near her home. Over the years, she has honed her skills on the road at clubs and festivals all over the world. Last year, she recorded her fourth and fifth solo albums, "Chills and Fever," which was recorded in Detroit, Mich., with members of the band The Detroit Cobras; and "Belle of the West," which she describes as "a storytelling record -- it's very personal," but includes some heavy Mississippi Blues tracks.

The Sugar Magnolia Music Festival will be held at the Hancock County Fairgrounds, 4134 Kiln-DeLisle Rd.

The complete line-up includes Samantha Fish, Raw Oyster Cult, The Dustbowl Revival, Johnny Sketch and the Bandicoot 4, Dave Jordan and the N.J.A., Russel Batiste and Friends, Dana Abbott, Buku Broux and Sippiana Soul. Late night featuring The Iceman Special and The Quickening. Kids under 13 free. Family-friendly. Camping, tent and pop up. RV hookups/rentals available, oyster bar, local craft beer garden, and art market. Learn more at www.sugar-magnoliafest.com.

Wildlife Mississippi Applauds Interior's Corridor Initiative

Wildlife Mississippi applauds the recent announce by Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke that migration corridors for wildlife will finally be getting much needed attention throughout the United States.

The Secretary announced that, through a public-private partnership, $2.7 million in grants will be dedicated to restoring and enhancing critical migration habitat. The partnership includes the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation (NFWF), the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), and ConocoPhillips. The species directly benefiting from this action are migrating herds of mammals. This announcement is a giant step in the right direction toward the implementation of the Secretary's Order 3362, which is a focus on migration corridors. Migrating species do not pay any attention to lines on a map or who owns what or who manages what. The best we can do for them is clear a path so they have unobstructed and safe access to the best habitats available to them.

Grant funds will be used to restore habitat quality on degraded winter ranges, historic migration corridors, and stopover areas while addressing issues such as restrictive fencing, dangerous highway crossings, and bottlenecks. Funds will also be available for implementing other measures like conservation easements, and habitat fragmentation and connectivity.

The other piece of good news is that this is a collaborative partnership of stakeholders. When you have the residing state and federal wildlife and land agencies, tribal agencies, highway departments, private landowners, conservation organizations, and industry joining forces, that's when things get done. We applaud Secretary Zinke and his fine staff, the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation and ConocoPhillips for putting this initiative together. Our nation's wildlife will be the better for it.

Those eligible for grant funding include, non-profit 501(c) organizations, U.S. Federal government agencies, state government agencies, local governments, municipal governments, and Indian tribes.

right to vote if we want to achieve total equality.

Also on Thursday, the State Conference will honor members who have passed on within the past year. Branch members around the state were invited to send the names of those to be memorialized. Here in Bay St.

Louis, our own Robert Lee Davis, Jr. passed away on March 16, 2018 after a short illness. Bob was 79 years old.

Hancock County NAACP branch President Gregory Barabino said, "We are pleased to welcome the State Conference Convention to our city. Many of our members will be able to participate in the scheduled activities."

It will be a busy three days that will include a slate of workshops and luncheon meetings that will conclude with the annual Freedom Fund Awards Banquet where a huge audience is anticipated on Saturday night. Nine State Conference awards will be presented which will include The Medgar Evers Award and the Fannie Lou Hamer Award.

Medgar Wiley Evers served as the first state Field Secretary of the Mississippi NAACP. Born July 2, 1925, he was assassinated in his driveway on June 12, 1963. Fannie Lou Hamer was a Mississippi Civil Rights, voting and women's rights activist born October 6, 1917 the youngest of her parents' 20 children. Only educated through the 6th grade, she married in 1942 and adopted 2 children.

With flu season underway and November marking National Diabetes Awareness Month, we would like to remind parents and doctors that the misdiagnosis of diabetes as the flu, a stomach virus or another infection can be deadly—especially in the very young.

We at the Diabetes Foundation of Mississippi are committed to raising awareness of the warning signs of diabetes, including thirst, frequent urination, bedwetting, nausea and vomiting, and fatigue. At diagnosis over 40% children with type 1 are already suffering from diabetic ketoacidosis (DKA), a breakdown of fat by the liver that can lead to coma and death.

Earlier diagnosis will mean fewer children will suffer from this life-threatening condition.

Even infants can get diabetes, yet it is often missed by those unaware that the disease can strike at such a young age.

When a mother in north Mississippi noticed that her 3-year-old daughter was frequently thirsty and wetting the bed, she thought the child might have a urinary tract infection. And after a relative suggested diabetes as the culprit the doctor was dismissive. Everyone was stunned when the child, already in DKA, was airlifted to a hospital, her blood glucose approaching 800. (Normal fasting levels range from around 70 to 99 mg/dl.) Please learn to recognize the warning signs of diabetes in your family, friends, co-workers, and patients before irreversible damage has been done. Free posters displaying diabetes warning signs are available for daycare centers, schools, medical offices and elsewhere. Please call (601) 957-7878 or visit www.msdiabetes.org.

gram would include an 18-month engineering study, with "deliverable results" within the first nine months.

Also on Monday, the board voted 4-0 to authorize LaFontaine to sign a proposed lease agreement with Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann's office on a long-awaited beach parking bay project.

"We've been talking about this for about a year," LaFontaine said. "it was in the budget last year, but we had to delay due to permitting issues. ... It's similar to how Harrison County's parking bays are situated, so it's diagonal on the beach side of the road. ... The idea behind it is to create more parking for public safety, so people don't have to cross the beach road. We're also trying to not encourage density around residential areas."

Coleman said the targeted areas would include the beach near Coleman Avenue in Waveland and down by Lakeshore Road and the Silver Slipper Casino Hotel.

The project is budgeted for around $600,000 and would create about 20 new parking spots at each location, he said. LaFontaine said construction time would depend on when the bids come in and whether they are within budget, but he hopes the project would be finished by next spring.

In other action Monday, the board:

- Authorized a Live Streaming Support Service Agreement with Granicas in the amount of $4,752. The contract is valid for one year, beginning Dec. 1 and ending Nov. 30, and would live-stream county meetings on the internet.

- Took bids under advisement for the Jordan River dredging project.

- Met briefly in executive session with Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission representatives to discuss the exchange of real property for upcoming industrial development projects. No action was taken.

- Spread on the minutes the E-911 appointment of Brian "Hooty" Adam as commission chairman and Waveland Police Chief David Allen as vice-chair.

- Approved the removal of the old well and installation of a new one at the Hancock County Sports Complex, at an estimated cost of $9,931.

- Authorized Jay Heitzmann to upgrade the existing boardroom public address system and recording systems, at a cost not to exceed $2,850.

- Authorized LaFontaine to execute the contract with NVision Solutions for the NIST LIDAR project in the amount of $173,000, to be paid for entirely through grant funds.

HANCOCK HAWKS WIN ON SENIOR NIGHT, ROCK-A-CHAWS BOW OUT OF PLAYOFFS

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The last two football games of the 2018 campaign were played locally last Friday evening. The Hancock Hawks closed out their 2018 season with a 24-21 victory over the Pascagoula Panthers on Senior Night while the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws bowed out of the Class 4A state playoffs with a 28-12 loss to the Northeast Lauderdale Trojans. The Hawks (4-7, 2-5) rallied to send their seniors out on a winning note with a 24-21 victory over the visiting Panthers at Brett Favre Field. The Hawks scored all three touchdowns on the ground. Chris Bernard carried the ball seven times for 68 yards and a score while Jordan Foushee added 64 yards rushing on six carries with a touchdown. Blake Comeaux added 30 yards on eight carries and a score. Caleb Garcia completed six passes in 11 attempts for 86 yards. On defense, Jace Ladner paced the Hawks with 14 stops and a fumble recovery while Trenton Ladner added 10 tackles. The Hawks end 2018 with a two-game win streak and now start the off-season preparing for the 2019 campaign. The Rocks (5-6) hosted the first round of the Class 4A state playoffs 'between the walls' Friday night. It marked the sixth consecutive trip and the 15th time in the last 17 years for the Rocks to advance to the playoffs. However, for the first time since 2011, the Rocks bowed out in the first round when they fell 28-12 to the Trojans of Northeast Lauderdale. SSC simply could not maintain possession of the football coughing it up five times in the game with two lost fumbles and three interceptions. And, they allowed a 10-minute 21-play drive in the first half that gave the Trojans a 14-6 lead they would not relinquish. In the game, Brandon Bordelon rushed 14 times for 48 yards and both touchdowns. Max Favre was 25-for-41 passing for 241 yards. Lee Negrotto caught four passes for 86 yards followed by Dallas Payne with Dallas Payne adding seven catches for 81 yards. On defense, the Rocks were paced by three players with 11 tackles Trustin Northington, Trace Rhodes and Blake Bilich. Thomas Williams and Negrotto each added nine tackles. The playoff game marked the first time the two teams have met on the gridiron. And, for the next two years, the Trojans will be moved to the North 4A ranks due to reclassification.

tion. The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #12 is SSC running back Brandon Bordelon who scored both touchdowns in the Rocks' 28-12 playoff loss to Northeast Lauderdale. He also added 14 carries for 48 yards, five passes for 22 yards and one kickoff return for 16 yards. The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #12 is Hancock's Jace Ladner who tallied 14 total tackles and a fumble recovery in the Hawks' 24-21 win. Football is now over for the area along with volleyball, cross country and swimming. It is time to move on to the winter sports of basketball and soccer that have begun, in earnest; however, for those of us who long for the warrior's game, we will have to wait a mere 282 days, or 40 Fridays from now. See you at the game!

SSC'S BLANCHARD NAMED ONE OF THE TOP HIGH SCHOOL RUNNING BACKS IN FOOTBALL HISTORY

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The late Colonel Felix A 'Doc' Blanchard, Jr. was recently named one of the top 50 running backs of all-time in high school football by MaxPreps. The list was released on Thursday, October 25th. Blanchard, a 1942 Saint Stanislaus College graduate, was ranked #34 on the list of 50. He was listed right behind Tom Harmon of Horace Mann High School and later Michigan and Heisman Trophy fame and right ahead of Toby Gerhart of Norco High School and later Stanford fame. The only other Mississippi running back listed was Marcus Dupree of Philadelphia High School at #22. MaxPreps selected the running backs mainly from their high school achievements with their college and professional careers figuring into the mix but to a lesser extent. Senior writer for MaxPreps, Kevin Askland, wrote,

"The ones chosen for the Top 50 were only selected if they were named to an All-American team. For the players who played prior to 1947, when the first high school All-American teams were selected, the player had to be considered one of the great high school running backs in the country at the time." Blanchard was a second generation student-athlete at SSC following his father, Felix Blanchard who graduated in 1916. He attended SSC from the sixth through 12th grade and excelled at all sports at SSC, especially football and track and field. Blanchard would eventually become the school's all-time leading rusher and scorer on the gridiron. His all-time rushing record has since been broken by 2001 graduate Kris Cannon (4,290) and his single season points scored record by 2015 graduate Patrick McRaney (207). He played four varsity seasons for the Rocks from 1938-41. In 1938 as a freshman, he played with

Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame inductee Celestin J. "Pete" Taylor who went on to a 30-year coaching career at the University of Southern Mississippi where the baseball park is

Hancock wins crazy finish against SSC on hardwood

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

We have all heard about games that resemble a tale of two halves or games where a team does not look like the same team from one half to another.

If you were present for the Hancock/St. Stanislaus game that opened the 2018-19 basketball season at Gulfport High's Bert Jenkins Gymnasium on Saturday, then you know exactly what is about to be written.

Yes, the two teams played each other. Yes, each team had great moments and not-so-great moments. And, yes, there had to be a winner and a loser. But, this writer is not sure anyone knew what was about to happen at 10:30am when tip-off occurred.

Once the game was underway, it looked like a normal game where a lot was going right for one team and the other team just could not buy a basket.

Hancock jumped out to a 16-4 lead in the first quarter. The lead increase slightly by halftime when Hancock went into the break with a 29-14 lead.

In the second half, the Rocks came alive in the third period and put a glove on the Hawks holding them scoreless from the 4:47 mark until there were just two seconds left in the game.

In that time frame, the Rocks chopped away at the lead as they ended the third period with an 8-0 run.

With 1:10 left to play, Luke Ladner brought SSC

The Pass Christian Pirates placed sixth overall in Class 4A out of 25 teams with 157 points. The Pirates' top five scorers were Mike Seignious (15th, 18:39.13), Sean Necaise (28th, 19:41.03), Andrew Crusan (33rd, 19:42.45), Ryan Waltman (40th, 19:55.31) and Zach Thomas (41st, 19:55.53).

The Pass Christian Lady Pirates placed second overall out of 25 teams in Class 4A with 83 points behind champion Corinth with 79 points.

The Lady Pirates' top five scorers were Haley Clark (6th, 21:56.84), Avery Saulter (11th, 22:45.90), Kealey Skinner (13th, 22:50.71), Draevyn Shabazz (25th, 23:28.72) and Abby Batten (28th, 23:46.15).

The Hancock Hawks placed 20th overall out of 25 teams in Class 6A with 593 points behind champion Ocean Springs with 36 points.

The top five scorers for Hancock were Matthew Johnson (71st, 19:46.40), Seth Penton (72nd, 19:50.35), Eli Grover (141st, 22:47.13), Ethan Harriel (153rd, 23:24.47) and Jared Grover (156th, 23:37.41).

The Hancock Lady Hawks placed 24th out of 25 teams in Class 6A with 634 points behind champion Pearl with 66 points.

The top five scorers for the Lady Hawks were Breanna Gipson (104th, 26:18.68), Annie Ladner (125th, 28:01.23), Chelsea Smith (131st, 28:35.09), Madison Delger (134th, 28:42.45) and Lauren LaCroix (140th, 29:20.81).

within a basket with a free throw to make the score 36-34.

After a out of bounds call on Hancock, Ladner drained a three-pointer with nine seconds left to play giving the Rocks a slim 37-36 lead. However, not to be outdone, Hancock (1-1) had one last shot up their sleeve when Seth Penton banked a three-pointer off the glass with two seconds remaining that gave the Hawks the game 39-37.

It was an amazing comeback by the Rocks and outstanding resolve by Hancock to not abandon what had got the team to that point.

Hancock head coach Derrick Willis, a SSC graduate who was coaching opposite his older Brother Grady on the SSC bench, commented, "We started out fast going ahead 10-0. We took six charges in the first half. We knew that a change was coming from SSC. Coach Aaron Dunklin moved from a man defense to a 1-3-1 and that affected us resulting in 17 turnovers. We were put through some adversity and it showed our heart and character by not giving up. Hancock had done that before so it shows we are learning. The big lesson we need to learn is not to help the opponent out. We did a lot of that today."

Hancock was paced in the game by Penton with 10 points followed by Elijah Law and Raymond Miller with nine points each.

SSC head coach Aaron Dunklin stated, "In the first half, we had a game plan but the guys got away from it for some reason. We need to understand that the more we play as a team, the better we will be. Hancock put pressure on us early and it hurt us. If we are able to create the tempo in practice and work with it, then things slow down in the game. But, we have to be a willing partner in that. In the second half, things began to work for us. The first half was rough shooting just 2-for-9 in the scoring area and 6-for-14 at the line. We have to do a better job of coach and a better job of executing."

The Rocks (0-1) were led by Ladner with 14 points followed by Brandon Bordelon with 12.

The Hancock Lady Hawks (0-1) fell to the East Central Lady Hornets 46-31.

The Lady Hawks showed resiliency with a surge in the second half to close the gap with a young squad.

Hancock head coach Jamie Sisco stated, "The biggest thing that this young group needs is game experience. All our mistakes we are committing right now are correctable. We are working through the process and hope to get things fixed by January when division rolls around."

Raven Smith led Hancock with 13 points.

The Bay High Tigers opened their season with a 71-66 win over North Pike on Saturday while the Lady Tigers dropped their opener with North Pike 70-31. Game details were not available.

In upcoming action, Bay High is set to host d'Iberville on Friday, November 9th while Hancock will host St. Martin on Tuesday, November 13th. OLA will travel to Purvis on Thursday, November 8th and Pass Christian will host Biloxi on Saturday, September 10th. The Rocks will host Forrest County AHS on Friday, November 9th and will honor the 2000 division championship team. SSC head coach Aaron Dunklin and FCAHS head coach Grayson Timidaiski were both members of that squad.

Blanchard

named in his honor.

As a senior, Blanchard led SSC to an undefeated season and the Gulf Coast Championship. The team played Jesuit High School in the annual Toy Bowl in New Orleans following the season.

During his senior season, Blanchard was a 1,000-yard rusher and scored 165 points as he also kicked, punted and played defense for the Rocks. He was named to the All-Gulf Coast team for his play.

As one of the top recruits in the country in 1941, he had his choice of schools to sign with and ultimately chose the University of North Carolina where he played freshman football.

Blanchard had longed to attend the United States Military Academy at West Point but was denied admission out of SSC.

With the country involved in WWII, he continued his plea to attend West Point and was admitted following his freshman year at UNC.

Blanchard's teams at Army went 27-0-1 and won three national championships. During that time span, Blanchard earned the nickname "Mr. Inside" for bruising running style and was named a consensus All-American three consecutive years.

In 1945, he won college football's most distinguished award -The Heisman Trophy. In that same year, he also claimed the Maxwell and Sullivan awards making him the only person in history to win all three awards in the same year. He was the first football player to win the Sullivan Award and the first junior to win the Heisman.

He also claimed the NCAA championship in the shotput and was named an All-American in track and field.

During his time at Army, he scored 38 touchdowns and totaled 1,666 yards rushing which is still ranked in top 15 at the school.

He was drafted #3 overall by the Pittsburgh Steelers but the Army did not grant him leave to pursue professional football.

He went on to serve in the Army Air Corps which eventually became the United States Air Force and flew fighter jets in Korea and Vietnam.

BLANCHARD

Blanchard has been named to the College Football Hall of Fame, the West Point Athletic Hall of Fame, the Amateur Athletic Union Hall of Fame, the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame, the South Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, the Saint Stanislaus Hall of Fame and the Great Wall of Rocks for Athletics.

His college teammate, Glenn Davis, was nicknamed 'Mr. Outside' and is ranked #15 on MaxPreps' list. Previously, Athlon's in the mid-1990s referred to Blanchard as the greatest fullback to ever play the game on any level and ranked the duo of Blanchard and Davis at Army as the greatest one-two backfield punch in college football history.

Blanchard became the first Heisman Trophy winner to donate his trophy to his high school. In 1989, he donated all three awards- Heisman, Maxwell and Sullivan -to St. Stanislaus College so "...it can inspire young men to achieve greatness." Davis donated his Heisman Trophy to his high school a month later.

Blanchard passed away on April 19, 2009, less than eight months before St. Stanislaus won their only Class 4A state football championship on December 5, 2009, with three high school All-Americans in QB/S Dylan Favre, WR Krisjon Wilkerson and WR/LB Boomer Scarborough.

MaxPreps' top-ranked running back of all-time is Emmitt Smith of Escambia High School.

BAY BOOKS
131 MAIN STREET
BAY ST LOUIS
228-463-2688

Jeremy Burke, owner and operator of the local independent bookstore Bay Books sees his job as putting smiles on faces and talking to everyone.

Kay Gough, founder of Bay Books, put the store up for sale in 2011 when her husband's work took them out of the country. There was the potential the business would close.

"When my wife and I bought this place, we couldn't see Bay St. Louis without a bookstore," said Burke.

The way Burke sees it, people from all different walks of life and political views can find books that suit them in his shop. "We're a bit of a think tank," he said.

Bay Books is certainly a wonderland of new and used books with a large selection of goodies for children. The shop also specializes in local authors and has a great selection of cookbooks.

If there's something a customer doesn't see on the shelves, Burke is always happy to order it.

"The majority of our customers are kids or people wanting to buy stuff for children," Burke said. "As long as people of all ages want to continue to think and get lost in their imagination, there will always be a place for books."

Saturday is the busiest day of the week for Bay Books. "Everyone loves to shop on a beautiful Saturday afternoon," said Burke.

WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF KATRINA'S ARRIVAL, JENISE MCCARDELL CREATED A SPACE FOR GALLERY 220 IN THE FRONT OF HER CLAY CREATIONS BUILDING, AND AN ARTIST'S COOPERATIVE WAS BORN.

NANCY LOWENTRITT WILL BE FEATURED DURING THE NOV. 10 SECOND SATURDAY ART WALK AT GALLERY 220 MAIN IN OLD TOWN BAY ST. LOUIS. HERE SHE STANDS IN FRONT OF THE SHOO FLY OAK WITH HER ORIGINAL PAINTING OF THE TOWN ATTRACTION. THE COUPLE STANDING ON THE SHOO FLY REDISCOVERED EACH OTHER AFTER A LONG-AGO ROMANCE AND WERE RECENTLY MARRIED THERE.

JEREMY BURKE, OWNER AND OPERATOR OF BAY BOOKS, SAYS HE AIMS TO MAKE THE STORE A "WONDERLAND" OF NEW AND USED BOOKS WITH A LARGE SELECTION OF CHILDREN'S ITEMS.

MAGNOLIA ANTIQUES OWNERS JACK AND GLENDA SCHORNICK AND DAUGHTER SHAY COSS ARE GEARING UP FOR THE HOLIDAYS AT THE STORE, LOCATED AT 200 MAIN ST. IN BAY ST. LOUIS, WHICH IS FILLED TO THE RAFTERS WITH ANTIQUE FURNISHINGS, ART, TOYS, DOLLS, UKULELES AND OTHER VINTAGE COLLECTIBLES – INCLUDING A HUGE COLLECTION OF UKULELES.

Second Saturdays are especially popular as Burke often hosts book signings during the busy season. Bay Books is open Monday through Saturday, 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

except for Second Saturday, of course, when Main Street shops are open well into the evening.

GALLERY 220
220 MAIN ST.
BAY ST LOUIS

As visitors and locals drive down Main Street into the heart of Old Town, it's hard to miss Gallery 220. The vibrant Coca-Cola mural on the side of 220 Main literally welcomes visitors to Old Town Bay St. Louis.

Inside the Art Deco building, art lovers discover the work of 25 local makers, and at least one of the artists will be in the gallery greeting guests. Gallery 220 is a true co-operative where the artists work in the shop at least one day a month.

Gallery 220 features a wide variety of artwork including painting, sculpture, jewelry, mosaics, textiles, pottery, photography and more. Truly there's something for every interest, every age and every budget at this eclectic gallery.

Jenise McCardell and Mark Currier acquired the building just before Katrina from local artist Vicki Niolet, who had a wide network of artists.

"All of the artists of Bay St. Louis were suddenly adrift and needed a home base, so that's why we opened as a co-op," said McCardell.

Before Katrina, shoppers will remember McCardell's "Funky Rose" dress shop. Currier and she also opened their Clay Creations studio and shop in the back, where it remains today.

The gallery's artists also often host workshops to teach people tricks of their trades.

Every inch of the gallery oozes art. In addition to the iconic Coca-Cola mural on the north side of the building, there's also a mural of a tree on the beach side of the gallery that faces California Drawstrings and the other shops and restaurants of the 200 block.

"We hosted a contest with the local school – the winning design was by a team of 4th graders who proposed a huge tree called Old Faithful," said

McCardell.

McCardell loves surrounding herself with art and creativity. She used to live in the French Quarter. When her daughter Devon turned three years old, she found the Bay as an alternative to the creativity New Orleans offered, but with a small town feel.

“My favorite thing about Bay St. Louis is the people – lots of them are artists with New Orleans ties,” McCardell said. “We are funky with a Mayberry feel.”

Local scenes are a favorite subject for Nancy Lowentritt

Gallery 220 Main is happy to announce the November Featured Artist, Nancy Lowentritt, who is celebrating her tenth year with the gallery. Her acrylic paintings are featured in the gallery front window and throughout the gallery during the November 10 Second Saturday Art Walk where Nancy will be on hand to discuss her inspiration and techniques. It will be a great opportunity to see her latest creative endeavors which feature local scenes such as the Shoofly Oak, located in Old Town Bay St. Louis.

After a 30-year career in real estate, she is now able to devote most of her time to painting which includes scenes such as pelicans, boats, cafes and other subjects that capture the easy life in the Bay. One technique Nancy uses is priming her museum wrapped canvas in cadmium red before starting a painting. She feels that it adds more depth to her work. Soft aqua colors are featured in many of her paintings, which creates a perfect match for the Gulf Coast home. Originally from New Orleans, Nancy shares her time between Bay St. Louis and Ponchatoula, LA. She studied art at LSU and NOFA and has continued developing her talent through various workshops and courses.

Join Nancy and many of the twenty-five local artists that call Gallery 220 Main home for Second Saturday. The family friendly event takes place from 4-8pm, this Saturday and is free of charge. There will be food, refreshments and live music by guitarist, John Slay.

Known for its creative atmosphere, the gallery is located at the corner of Toulme and Main Streets, Bay St. Louis, MS. For additional information, please call 228-466-6347.

CAST OF "SHADOWLANDS" OPENS FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH.

Bay Little Theatre will present 'Shadowlands'

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will open its next season show “Shadowlands” by William Nicholson on November 9th.

It is the true story of C. S. Lewis, the English author of “The Chronicles of Narnia” and his American wife. The play was adapted to a movie starring Anthony Hopkins and Debra Winger. The movie won the BAFTA Award for Best British Film and Best Actor in 1993. Roger Ebert of the Chicago Sun-Times reviewed the movie “intelligent, moving and beautifully acted.”

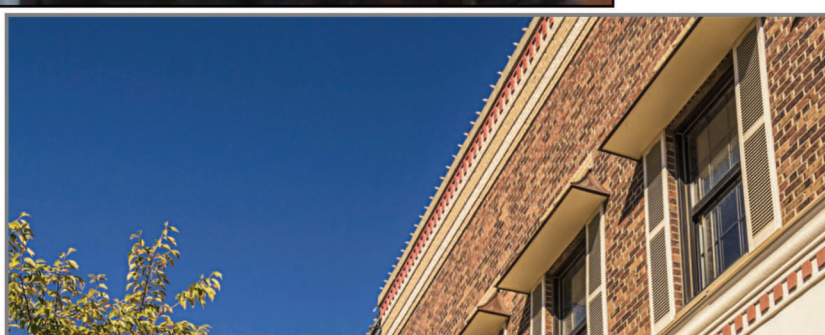

The relationship of C. S. Lewis and Joy Davidman has been the subject of many writings. At first glance, they were an unlikely couple: C. S. Lewis, a distinguished author and Oxford scholar, and Joy Davidman, a Jewish-American divorcee, converted Christian, mother of two, and former Communist Party member. But together they walked through life’s challenges, persevering despite their faith tested in the face of suffering and death. This amazing true story reveals the many events that occurred in the lives of two astounding Christians to bring them together and sparks their love for each other. There are tender moments and darkest hours where faith is shaken to its very foundation. More than a biography and more than a love story, this is a moving tribute to a couple whose faith, hope, and love grew through adversity.

The show is directed and produced by Cheryl Grace. Jen Coulter is assistant director. The cast includes Robert Newton, Clayton Pennylegion, Cheryl Grace, Michael LeBeau, Paul Bernard, Jim Codling, Terry Cullen, Jim Fraiser, and Linda Allen. Jen Coulter did set design and construction. Emma Rabalais is manager of sound and lights. Volunteer coordinator is Rachel Anderson. Sound effects and promotion are done by Clayton Pennylegion.

Show dates and times are November 9, 10, 16, 17 at 8pm; and November 11 and 18 at 2pm. Doors open one hour before the show and seating starts 30 minutes before each show.

2 Tickets for the show can be purchased online at www.bsllt.org or purchased at Lulu’s at 126 Main Street or Twin Light Creations at 136 Main Street. Ticket fees are $18 adults, $10 Seniors 65+, veterans, military, and students with ID, and $8 for children 12 and under. Seat reservations can be made by calling 228-467-9024 or email the Little Theatre. Reservations for seats are recommended for all ticket holders including season ticket holders to be able to accommodate the show’s audiences. The Little Theatre accepts check or cash when paying for tickets at the door.

MDE to Prepare Educators for Underserved Students through Teacher-Residency and Performance-Based Licensure Pilot Programs

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi Department of Education (MDE) is launching an initiative to increase the number of qualified teachers entering and remaining in the profession through teacher-residency and performance-based licensure programs. The project is funded by a $4.1 million grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation to address the achievement gaps in high poverty, high minority schools and schools that lack a diverse teaching staff. "Every school must have effective teachers to help students learn and achieve at the highest levels," said Dr. Carey Wright, state superintendent of education. "This project is part of a statewide strategy to diversify the teacher pipeline to ensure all students have access to teachers who are well-prepared, appropriately licensed and serve as role models for success."

The grant will fund the Mississippi Teacher Residency (MTR) program, which is a collaboration among the MDE, Jackson Public Schools, Sunflower County School District, Biloxi Public Schools and Ocean Springs School District. The program will recruit 35 diverse teacher candidates, pay their undergraduate tuition, and place them in the classroom of a highly skilled or National Board Certified Teacher (NBCT) mentor for two years. Candidates will be required to teach in Jackson Public Schools, Sunflower County School District, Biloxi Public Schools or Ocean Springs School District for three years after completing their residency program. The teaching candidates will be AmeriCorps members and receive full tuition to complete their undergraduate studies. Mentor teachers will earn a $5,000 annual stipend. The W.K. Kellogg grant will also fund a performance-based teacher licensure pilot program, which will help a select group of teachers with provisional licenses become fully licensed. The program is aimed at teachers who have proven to be effective in the classroom, but are struggling to pass licensure exams. Teachers in the performance-based licensure program also make a three-year commitment to remain teaching in their respective districts. Recruitment for the Mississippi Teacher Residency and performance-based licensure programs will start in spring 2019 for the 2019-20 school year.

Mississippi State University received three grants Oct. 22 totaling almost $900,000 to enhance the advancement of scientific and environmental literacy among children and young people living near the Gulf Coast. These funds were part of $3.2 million awarded in nine grants from the Gulf Research Program, part of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine. The awards were the first grants from this funding agency made specifically to focus on building the scientific capacity of the next generation. The first two grants fund efforts within the MSU Extension Service, while the third funds projects within the MSU Gulf Coast Community Design Studio. The first award is $392,000 to build sea level and flood resilience capacity in the northern gulf through students and teach-

Leadership Hancock Class Launches Fundraiser to Support Innovate Work Ready Mentor Program

SEA COAST ECHO

On Saturday, November 10th from 8am to 1pm at Prestige Fitness in the Diamondhead area, members of the 2017/2018 Leadership Hancock Class are challenging the community to participate in LIFTOFF, a strength and endurance challenge. Proceeds from the event will help launch the new Work Ready Mentor Program initiated by Leadership Hancock, an annual program of the Hancock Chamber.

LIFT OFF participants can sign up for any number of challenges to include step-ups, pushups, kettlebel swings, lunges and sit-ups, overhead presses and more. There is also a competition for team rowing, cycling, weight lifting and the Murph Challenge. Registration starts at $60 and gift awards are valued at $500 for each of the five competitions. To register with the Hancock Chamber go to <http://tinyurl.com/2018-liftoff>

Companies and individuals are invited to also sponsor the event. Packages range from $500 to $200 and include registrations and company recognition. On-line sponsor registration is at: <https://tinyurl.com/2018-liftoff-sponsor>

For information, contact James Buras at jburas@comptonengineering.com or at 228-493-5200 or Tre Hamilton at Hamilton.tre@gmail.com or at 228-342-6401.

The workforce issue emerged when the Hancock Chamber of Commerce partnered with the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission in 2016 to launch a business retention and expansion program. Through this program, surveys of small businesses were conducted by members of the Leadership Hancock Class.

Today 60 small business and 60 primary companies have been interviewed that represent 4,906 employees. In the last three years, these companies have added 518 jobs and 68 companies are planning to expand investing an estimated $400,565,000 that will add 2,599 new jobs to the economy.

"We saw first-hand that the number one issue facing business and industry today in Hancock County and really across the nation is finding reliable, skilled workforce," said Tre Hamilton, a member of the Class. "We want to fill the gap and help connect the workforce with employers by providing mentoring and apprenticeships."

Members of the Class know that in order to achieve the goals they have set forth, significant funds need to be raised.

Through this new and innovative program, members of the Class will offer a positive influence to high school juniors in Hancock County selected to participate by providing support, guidance, encouragement and direction for students who are looking for a career path.

"Working one-on-one with a mentor from the Hancock Leadership Class, participants will receive guidance on resume writing, phone and email etiquette, and interview skills," said James Buras, another member of the Class.

After students graduate from high school, some will go on to participate in the apprenticeship component of the program. The Leadership Hancock Work Ready team will support apprentices through the job application process and will help open employment doors in Hancock County.

Another goal of the program is to lower barriers for local business owners by alleviating the initial expense of training a new employee. The goal of the program is to pay half of the apprentice's wages for three months to the business owner. After the three-month trial period is over, the employer can choose whether to fully employ the apprentice.

While members of Leadership Hancock are volunteering their time to help the youth of Hancock County lift off their careers, raising funds to support the apprenticeship program is critical to achieving success.

"We want to be ready to help these employers find the skilled workers they need to move our economy in the right direction," said Tish Williams, executive director of the Hancock Chamber.

"We applaud the efforts of the Leadership Class for embracing this issue and finding a solution to arm our workforce with the skills they need to land the jobs they want right here at home."

ers. This project is directed by MSU Extension in cooperation with the Alabama School of Math and Science, Dauphin Island Sea Lab, the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium, the Northern Gulf of Mexico Sentinel Site Cooperative, Smart Home America and the University of South Alabama.

A $400,000 grant was awarded for seeding wetland restoration and conservation in Mississippi high schools. MSU Extension and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant direct this project in cooperation with the University of Southern Mississippi.

The final grant was of $98,000 for Magnolia Bayou: A Catalyst for Change in Downtown Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The MSU Gulf Coast Community Design Studio directs this project in cooperation with the Bay St. Louis Community Arts Center and unabridged Architecture.

Each project was selected after an external peer-review process. Funding for the National Academies' Gulf Research Program comes from money received in legal settlements with companies involved in the 2010 Deepwater Horizon oil disaster. The program has $500 million to use over 30 years to fund grants, fellowships and other activities in the areas of research, development, education and training, and monitoring and synthesis.
